RE: Character Reference for Matthew S. Brown

Dear Judge Collins,

My name is Enrique A. Palmer, and I am writing this letter to provide a character reference for Matthew S. Brown. I have known Mr. Brown for 20 plus years since we officially met at a car dealership in West Palm Beach, Florida. We both have an affinity for BMW and high-performance cars, as well as interests in the health field. I am now a retired orthopedic surgeon, and when he was in Rhode Island he was an EMT. Initially I became a customer for one of his companies, namely, Extreme Performance, which was involved in providing upgraded and aftermarket automobile wheels and tires. Our friendship grew afterwards.

During 20 plus years of acquaintance I have consistently found Mr. Brown to be an excellent friend, a solid entrepreneur, an honest and sincere businessman, a significant contributor to Martin County's economy, and many other attributes that are simply too many to mention. He cared for the under-served in many different ways; he considered his employees as friends or relatives, going as far as helping them securing mortgage loans for their families and even at times providing a down payment to help them acquire their respective homes. He never, ever dressed in a way to separate himself from the rest of his crew but rather dressed in Bermuda shorts and t-shirts like his fellow employees. Never showed an air of being superior or better than others. When there was a need for an extra pair of lifting hands, he would square up and sweat it out along with his team. Matt, as he insisted being called, was always showing compassion and would in numerous times that I had the chance to observe, would go the extra mile providing his workers with excellent facilities and air conditioning to all his shops, knowing that the he had to flip the electric bill as an extra expense to keep his employees and working conditions above what's considered standard here in Florida. I also observed that instead of making the public aware of his donations and contributions to local and national charities he would for example help the Girl Scouts of America by purchasing large orders of their cookies and candies (massive orders) and then gifting them to his customers and his own employees as they came to the different shops and stores he owned. He quietly always helped the local shelters, in addition to providing meals and food to the various Animal shelters in the Treasure coast.
